PRIVACY POLICY

This policy explains how we may collect information about you and then use it in order to satisfy your booking requirements. It outlines the security measures we take in order to protect your privacy and gives certain assurances on things that we will not do.

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation your details will be held on our database for the purpose of administration and will not be passed to any third party other than any supplier you may have selected and approved unless we are legally entitled or obliged to do so (for example, if required to do so by a court order for the prevention of fraud or other crime).

Use of Information

We will use personal information about you for a number of purposes, including:

- to advise you of any changes or problems with your wedding booking
- to help us to administer accounts, services and products which we offer
- to help detect fraud or loss
- to write to you (including electronic mail) or to telephone you (including SMS) with relevant information about your booking, our venue or services/offers we are running.

To change the personal details we hold about you, please either email us or use the address at the bottom of this page.

Disclosure of Information

We do not sell or disclose your personal information to other companies without your prior consent. We do not sell mailing lists to third parties. If you do not wish to receive our newsletter, you can amend your preference by emailing us or writing to us at the address at the bottom of this document.

Protection of information

We maintain strict security measures in order to protect personal information.

The Internet

If you communicate with us via the internet then we will likely communicate back via email. If you would prefer us not to contact you in this way then you can email us at any time to change your preferences.
